

2010 PROPHETIC PROCLAMATION

—Pastor R. A. Vernon

THIS year I will not cave in or capitulate to any negative thought the Devil brings to my mind concerning my past failures, sins or indiscretions.

I'm cognizant that the enemy of the cross is opposed to me winning—that he is inimical, adverse and outrageously upset about what God is doing in my life and the life of my family in 2010, but so what! I'm still going to win!

In spite of my ontological wounds and emotional scars, I will not allow the negativity of my life's narrative to prevent me from reaching my destiny!

Greater is He that is in me than he that is in the world!

For many, last year was arduous. However, I declare by faith that 2010 will be antithetical, not analogous, to the year gone by.

Devil, your attempts to attenuate and attack my faith won't work!
This year I will pray more! This year I will read the Word more!
This year I will give more! This year I will have more!

THIS YEAR I WILL WIN! AMEN!
